Fatna purchased a new electric oven for £500 from Roger, an electrician. Roger told Fatna the oven would last for 20 years and was the 'best quality'. Roger told Fatna he would install the oven on Friday but only turned up to complete the job on Saturday.

After Roger had installed the oven Fatna noticed it was rusty and covered in grease. When Fatna turned the oven on it began to smoke and stopped working. Fatna later discovered the oven was second hand and installed incorrectly.

(c) Evaluate whether Roger has breached any terms of the contract with Fatna and what remedies may be appropriate.

Rohan is the owner of a garage near to Rosie's house. Rohan had just finished putting some new wheels on Andrew's car. Andrew was driving the car home from the garage and as he was passing Rosie's house, one of the newly fitted wheels came off the car. The wheel bounced across the garden and smashed into a greenhouse where Rosie was watering her plants.

Rosie was cut by the broken glass. The cut caused a rare blood disorder and as a consequence, Rosie was unable to work again. Rosie's greenhouse cost £600 to repair.

(b) Evaluate whether Rosie may be able to prove Rohan caused her damage in negligence and claim suitable damages for the incident.

4 Abbas employed Ron to repair his garden gate. Ron completed the repair but was hit by a loose roof slate when leaving Abbas's property. Slightly dazed Ron wandered into Abbas's house and fell over a loose floorboard, breaking his leg.

When Abbas inspected Ron's work, he found that he had left sharp edges near the top of the garden gate. Abbas was aware that young children often used his gate as a short cut but Ron had forgotten to fix it. Fatima, a young child, was later cut badly when using the gate for a shortcut home. Abbas then decided to put a warning sign to stop further injuries. Josh, a schoolboy, read the sign and then used the gate as a shortcut, resulting in a cut to his hand.

(a) Identify, from the scenario, which incidents are covered by The Occupiers' Liability Acts.
